Mike,

We want to thank you for the wonderful job you did building our home. It was just what we wanted. We were amazed at how quick you were able to get us into our new home. We appreciate those days when you worked in inclement weather conditions, when so many builders would not have. All the extra personal touches you added, which were not required of you, clearly demonstrate the expertise and pride you take in your craft. Often, when people decide to build a home, and have to choose a builder, not knowing someone personally who can do the building, they must rely on a person's word and have faith that his word will be kept. A fair and honest person is hard to find these days. Mike, we want to thank you for all your hard work, beautiful craftsmanship, and most of all, your sincerity and honesty. Mike, your diligence and patience with us will always be appreciated. We love our home and hope to enjoy it for many years to come.

We hope many good things come your way.

Thank You - Mike!
